

William Horne is working to bring jobs of the future to Nevada today.

Now is the time to bring those jobs home.

William Horne is taking action now.

Folks without jobs can't wait. They need to get to work now. William Horne understands that, and he's taking action.

- Supporting "Nevada Jobs First" directing government agencies to contract locally for both goods and services, creating opportunities for our residents.
- Backing "Nevada Businesses First" to give government bid preference to local businesses who can demonstrate they are hiring local residents.
- Voting to put more than 8,000 Nevadans to work on badly needed highway and road construction.

William Horne is building for the future.

Nevada is perfectly suited to attract the emerging high tech energy and manufacturing companies which offer good jobs and good wages. William is actively working with business leaders and legislators to bring jobs here to Nevada.

- Promotion of "Green Jobs Initiative" to develop high tech, clean power businesses in Nevada.
- Increase the coordination between businesses, government and higher education to support research and cut red tape.
- Provide tax incentives to attract new companies who agree to hire locally and pay well.

William Horne understands that we need new, good paying jobs. Our old reliance on gaming and construction just won't be enough for the 21st Century.

And William is on track to bring new opportunities for businesses and job seekers here in Nevada.

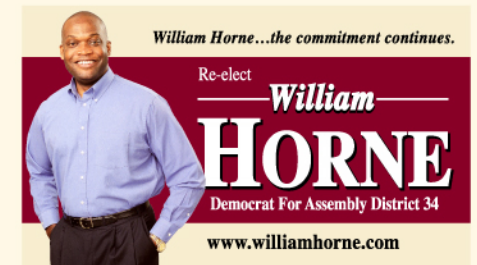

That's William Horne...committed to building a better future for Nevada.
