

William Horne has the right pieces for a new economic picture in Nevada.

William Horne is bringing 21st Century jobs to Nevada, and he knows we need a strong education system to support them.

Strong schools and creating quality jobs go hand in hand.

With our affordable land and buildings, reasonable regulations, and low business taxes, Nevada is already one of the Top Five States most attractive to business.

William Horne knows we need the schools to match, and he has the plan to get Nevada's schools on the right track to delivering quality education statewide.

William Horne is looking to the future to move Nevada forward.

He knows we can't depend on casinos and construction alone to rebuild our economy.

That's why he's hard at work with business leaders and entrepreneurs to develop emerging sectors such as high tech, health care, and renewable energy.

William Horne is also working to make sure Nevada's higher education system has the programs to support these industries, so we can prepare our next generation for these new opportunities.

WILLIAM HORNE... the commitment continues.
